

A few Bahá'ís in a small town in Australia planned to have a "Special Day of Joyous Giving" to gather money for the buildings around the Arc on the Mt. Carmel. None of them was rich and they were not able to save much money but the love of Bahá'u'lláh usually wins over the hearts of His followers. They chose the Birthday of Bahá'u'lláh for the happy occasion and on that blessed day, in a spirit of joy and gratitude, this small group of Bahá'ís gave generously for His Cause and collected over one thousand dollars!
